

Great Taste front of house temporary role - mid-March until early June 2020

You can read all about the Guild of Fine Food and how Great Taste fits into our activities in fine food here www.gff.co.uk/gta

The role

Great Taste is a lot like a restaurant. The judges are our guests, we have a cook and the front of house team are the waiters.

- Make our judges feel welcome, ensuring tea and coffee is provided each morning
- Each member of the team will be allocated 2 judging teams / tables to look after
- You would be responsible for ensuring that your teams have the 20 products they are judging in a session and the materials / bowls / plates / cutlery / other vessels to do justice to each and every food
- Making sure the judges have water / apples
- Ensuring that hot food that comes from the kitchen gets to the tables in an expedient manner
- Assisting on goods-in day (normally a Friday) receiving deliveries, checking codes and allocating food and drink to the correct crates
- Ensuring that the food given to our judges is in the best possible state to ensure parity and fairness

Provisional dates

The Great Taste judging season is mid-March until early June and in 2020, over 500 judges will blind taste approximately 12,500 products over 60 judging days.

The hours vary during the judging season but are normally 8am until 6pm. You would be based at the Guild of Fine Food's London facility at 42 Southwark Street, SE1 1UN. We supply polo shirts and aprons and ask you to wear black trousers or skirt, black socks or tights and black shoes/trainers (anything that is flat and comfortable).
